

Fido.Net - the internet made simple!

Portal > Knowledgebase > Broadband > What is SDSL?

What is SDSL?

Imported User Agent 3 - 2017-03-02 - 0 Comments - in Broadband

SDSL is a high speed internet connection, similar to ADSL the main difference being that the speed of download and upload is the same.

Why would I go for SDSL over ADSL?

If you are running servers within your organisation (web servers, mail servers etc) then using an SDSL line you can serve out information that much quicker.